Introduction

This document is based on the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education; the Department of Education's statutory Relationship and Health Education and the National Curriculum EYFS guidelines.

myHappymind covers 100% of the mandatory Relationship and Health Education guidelines as well as much of the PSHE and Early Years guidelines. It does not intend to replace your PSHE curriculum but there are many areas where it does support its delivery.

This document intends to help you to identify where myHappymind is delivering against key areas and where you may wish to supplement your PSHE or Early Years curriculum.

We have used the following key sources to compile this document:

1. Department for Education's Statutory framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage
Published: 31 March 2021, Effective: 1 September 2021.
2. PSHE Association Program of Study for personal, social, health and economic education.
3. Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education
Statutory guidance for governing bodies, proprietors, head teachers, principals, senior leadership teams, teachers, September 2020.

Principles for effective practice in PSHE Education

The PSHE Association has identified 10 key principles for effective practice in PSHE education. These are listed below and we have ensured that myHappyMind supports and reinforces all of these principles.

- 1 Start where children and young people are: find out what they already know, understand, are able to do and are able to say. For maximum impact involve them in the planning of your PSHE education programme.
- 2 Plan a 'spiral programme' which introduces new and more challenging learning, while building on what has gone before, which reflects and meets the personal developmental needs of the children and young people.
- 3 Take a positive approach which does not attempt to induce shock or guilt but focuses on what children and young people can do to keep themselves and others healthy and safe and to lead happy and fulfilling lives.
- 4 Offer a wide variety of teaching and learning styles within PSHE education, with an emphasis on interactive learning and the teacher as facilitator.
- 5 Provide information which is realistic and relevant and which reinforces positive social norms.
- 6 Encourage young people to reflect on their learning and the progress they have made, and to transfer what they have learned to say and to do from one school subject to another, and from school to their lives in the wider community.
- 7 Recognise that the PSHE education programme is just one part of what a school can do to help a child to develop the knowledge, skills, attitudes and understanding they need to fulfil their potential. Link the PSHE education programme to other whole school approaches, to pastoral support, and provide a setting where the responsible choice becomes the easy choice. Encourage staff, families and the wider community to get involved.
- 8 Embed PSHE education within other efforts to ensure children and young people have positive relationships with adults, feel valued and where those who are most vulnerable are identified and supported.
- 9 Provide opportunities for children and young people to make real decisions about their lives, to take part in activities which simulate adult choices and where they can demonstrate their ability to take responsibility for their decisions.
- 10 Provide a safe and supportive learning environment where children and young people can develop the confidence to ask questions, challenge the information they are offered, draw on their own experience, express their views and opinions and put what they have learned into practice in their own lives.

Aims of PSHE education

EYFS

Mapping

Early Years mapping

myHappyMind is focused on developing children's confidence, resilience and mental wellbeing and fits perfectly with the Statutory PSED Educational Programme. It is highly aligned with the PSED statements from Development matters and ELG's. The programme also gives children the skills to be effective learners and fits with the 3 Characteristics of Effective Learning.

myHappyMind is highly aligned to the PSED Education Programme below:

Children's personal, social and emotional development (PSED) is crucial for children to lead healthy and happy lives, and is fundamental to their cognitive development. Underpinning their personal development are the important attachments that shape their social world. Strong, warm and supportive relationships with adults enable children to learn how to understand their own feelings and those of others. Children should be supported to manage emotions, develop a positive sense of self, set themselves simple goals, have confidence in their own abilities, to persist and wait for what they want and direct attention as necessary.

Through adult modelling and guidance, they will learn how to look after their bodies, including healthy eating, and manage personal needs independently. Through supported interaction with other children, they learn how to make good friendships, co-operate and resolve conflicts peaceably. These attributes will provide a secure platform from which children can achieve at school and in later life.

myHappyMind also considers the importance of story telling and play during this phase and many of the resources are introduced in this way as a result.

myHappyMind mapping to Development Matters

Children in Nursery will be learning to:

- Select and use activities and resources, with help when needed. This helps them to achieve a goal they have chosen, or one which is suggested to them. (Engage)
- Develop their sense of responsibility and membership of a community.

- Find solutions to conflicts and rivalries. For example, accepting that not everyone can be Spider-Man in the game, and suggesting other ideas. (Celebrate, Relate)
- Increasingly follow rules, understanding why they are important. (Relate)
- Remember rules without needing an adult to remind them.
- Develop appropriate ways of being assertive.
- Talk with others to solve conflicts. (Relate)
- Talk about their feelings using words like 'happy', 'sad', 'angry' or 'worried'. (Meet your Brain)

- Be increasingly independent in meeting their own care needs, e.g., brushing teeth, using the toilet, washing and drying their hands thoroughly.
- Make healthy choices about food, drink, activity and toothbrushing.

Children in Reception will be learning to:

- See themselves as a valuable individual. (Celebrate)
- Build constructive and respectful relationships. (Relate)

myHappyMind mapping to Early Learning Goals

Self-Regulation ELG Children at the expected level of development will:

- Show an understanding of their own feelings and those of others, and begin to regulate their behaviour accordingly;
- Set and work towards simple goals, being able to wait for what they want and control their immediate impulses when appropriate;
- Give focused attention to what the teacher says, responding appropriately even when engaged in activity, and show an ability to follow instructions involving several ideas or actions.

Managing Self ELG Children at the expected level of development will:

- Be confident to try new activities and show independence, resilience and perseverance in the face of challenge;
- Explain the reasons for rules, know right from wrong and try to behave accordingly;
- Manage their own basic hygiene and personal needs, including dressing, going to the toilet and understanding the importance of healthy food choices.

Building Relationships ELG Children at the expected level of development will:

- Work and play cooperatively and take turns with others;
- Form positive attachments to adults and friendships with peers;
- Show sensitivity to their own and to others' needs.

Characteristics of Learning

The Characteristics of Effective Learning describe behaviours children use in order to learn. To learn well, children must approach opportunities with curiosity, energy and enthusiasm. Effective learning must be meaningful to a child, so that they are able to use what they have learned and apply it in new situations. These abilities and attitudes of strong learners will support them to learn well and make good progress in all the Areas of Learning and Development.

Playing and exploring

- Finding out and exploring.
- Playing with what they know.
- Being willing to have a go.

Active learning

- Being involved and concentrating.
- Keeping trying.
- Enjoying achieving what they set out to do.

Creating and thinking critically

- Having their own ideas.
- Making links.
- Choosing ways to do things.

myHappyMind also considers the importance of story telling and play during this phase and many of the resources are introduced in this way as a result. Staff are encouraged to use the language and concepts when children are following their interests and encourage them to use what they have learned during the myHappyMind sessions in their play.
